CONNING TOWER 1983

125TH ANNIVERSARY EDITION

A collage of four photographs of students in costumes. Top left: A student in a blue shirt and a crown-like headpiece, holding a green object. Top right: A student in a white and orange long-sleeved shirt and an orange beanie, sitting in a library. Bottom left: A student with a beard and glasses, wearing a light blue patterned shirt. Bottom right: A student in a red and black plaid shirt and a red beanie, seen from the back.

REFLECTIONS ON THE 1982-83 SCHOOL YEAR
FROM
C.A. COLLYER, PRINCIPAL

The school year of 1982-83 will hold fond memories for all of us at Weston. I, certainly, will always remember the excitement of my first year as Principal and I truly hope that your memories will also be of good friends, of exciting new ideas, of energetic activities, and of co-operative team work. Who can forget our exciting 125th Anniversary week end, our singing of "Happy Birthday Weston" in an assembly, our winning teams, our bright blue lockers, "The Wizard of Oz", the dedication of the "Hall of Memory" outside the office, or signing the form lists for the 150th? This was a year of boundless energy and joy.

It was also a year marked by a very deep sorrow - the death of Mr. Ken Blackwell. Mr. Blackwell gave most generously of his time and understanding to any students who needed a good listener or a good joke to cheer them up. He will always be remembered at Weston.

To the students of Weston, please accept my sincere thanks for a wonderful year, and my hope that your experiences at Weston have helped you become a little closer to your dreams. May your future be happy, healthy, and wise.

CONGRATULATIONS ON YOUR 125TH BIRTHDAY WESTON!

WESTON HIGH AND VOCATIONAL SCHOOL — 1926

I think that the true spirit of Weston Collegiate can be seen by looking at graduate write-ups from some old yearbooks. The comments always contain a certain sense of affection and pride about the old school.

The answers to the question, "what is your impression of W.C.?" were quite varied. They ranged from "Get out fast" to "What?" to "The school is heavy." to simply "I don't want to leave."

For all of the thousands of teachers and students who have passed through Weston, it has been special to each in some way. We have all had memories, and I think that almost everyone felt at one time or another a sense of belonging to a very special school. All of us have done our own things and learned by our experiences. Two of the most obvious of these "experiences" are, the classes we went to, and the boisterous times we had. To some there was little difference between the two. But some of the not so obvious, are the things that we created together, like friendships, school spirit, and victory. These are the elements along with joy and sorrow that make up Weston and although Weston High has taken on many different shapes, names and forms over the last 125 years, it will always be the same to us.

The following eight pages are dedicated to all students past and present of Weston Collegiate. Through the use of some old photos and hours of creativity, the 1983 yearbook staff has compiled a special anniversary section to commemorate Weston's 125th birthday. Congratulations!

An Old Proverb

He who knows and knows he knows
He's a wise man seek him.

He who knows and knows not he knows

He who knows not and knows not he knows not

Ryku Miller

Writing better with say.

As I sit down by the firelight,
and take my pen in hand
I feel so safe inside myself,
I now know who's in command

Emotion burns inside me,
as strong as any man
I love, I laugh I learn of life
as any other can

Sometimes it gets so hard for me, to speak of how I feel
I'm silent but the words reach my paper,
if there's time to steal

A moment here, a second there to ride upon my dreams.
I pause as I think of you,
My life and how good it seems.
By chance, I shyly show my work
to one in whom I trust.
My faith in you, is loving too and my demonstration is most

You read what I have written down,
You've open the door,
and touched that part of me
a certain spirit I never had before

Tracey L. Broadbridge

Look Around You

The crowded hallways full of noise
The whispers seldom heard
The person standing all alone
No longer speaks a word!

Alone he stands amongst them all
And taking into view
Just how lonely one can be
In a crowd that's far from few.

He walked the night without a crutch
The gap was never filled
Loneliness was his worst pain
In front of a car, is where he was killed?

Trish Boyko

A burning light:

If you think of life as a shooting star,
a burning light is what we are
With all the dreams of springs first hue
Some fragile as a silver morning dew.

Or strong as wind that bends the wood
Bubbles where quiet water stood
Life is an arrow taking flight,
Swiftsure into eternity light.
The star falls, the light fades,
spring spins out in autumn days.

The bubble burst, the arrow is spinning.
The flight is over or is it just the beginning?

To a Pal like You:

A friend is one who takes your hand,
and talks a speech you understand.
He's partly kindness and partly merth

A friend is constant, honest and true,
In short oh! Pal!
He's just like you . .

IN MEMORY OF ...

KEN BLACKWELL - COLLECTOR

Ken was once asked to give a profile of himself for a group to which he belonged, for those possessing above average I.Q., known as MENSA. In response to the question, "What special skill do you possess?" he answered, "I'm an optimist." When asked to give a brief personal statement for the MENSA biographical file he wrote, "I'm a happy individual who enjoys the company of all I meet. I could never be a hermit without shrivelling up and blowing away."

Looking at the MENSA questionnaire started me thinking about how Ken would have answered the question, "What one word describes you best?" Obvious answers such as kind, optimistic, intelligent, and sensitive didn't seem to capture the essence of the man, nor would he have chosen such self-complimentary phrases. After much reflection, I decided that, for me at least, the word "Collector" was most appropriate. Let me explain.

Firstly, as you undoubtedly know, Ken collected things. This was driven home to me recently when I helped Ken move into a new home. Among the many artifacts was a case of 12 odd, oddly shaped beer bottles which I decided should be left for the Monday garbage collection. When I suggested this he stared me down and replied, "Kenns, have you no appreciation these bottles are over 15 years old and each one is worth about $5 now and growing in value, whereas you're over 30 and worth less day by day."

I soon understood that Ken was a man who measured possessions and people less by their growing value than by their uniqueness, in any event these dusty old bottles arrived safely at their destination.

Perhaps it is fitting that Ken spent some of his last hours at a flea market searching for that unique purchase from that unique individual which he could thereafter treasure and boast about.

Ken as a collector: Well, he collected jokes, quotations, comic strips, and general information about people. It was just another way of opening those lines of communication which he did so beautifully. Imagine yourself as a shy student with some particular difficulty coming into see a strange counselor in a strange office in your new school. You are unsure and scared. As you walk into Ken's office, unsmiling, you are immediately bombarded by a large declaration, which he cut out letter by letter and pasted on the wall, which reads, "Smile, it improves your face value."

If that was missed, you turn towards the North wall and see 3 small posters. The first reads, "Of course I'm modest, it's the mark of a genius. After which you read, 'Some days you get the elevator. Some days you get the shaft.' And then your interest is further tweaked by "Most people nowadays don't know what clean fun is. Frankly I don't know what good it is either." Interested, but still not smiling, you turn and look above his desk and chuckle when you read, "Don't straighten the mess on my desk, you'll mess up my system." Well, a smile begins to appear on your lips, especially since there is no mess on his desk but instead, as always, all is well organized. You turn and sit down and are struck by a frank statement of reality on a small wooden plaque sitting on the bookshelf which says that "If at first you don't succeed try, try again. Then quit. There's no use being a damn fool about it."

Thus, by the time a student was settled, he or she was definitely chuckling and perhaps even feeling comfortable and certainly wondering about the kind of man who was responsible for this office. The query is partially answered by the beautifully hand inscribed postcard from an admiring student, Lisa Lawder, which reflects the feeling that "To live life in your own way, To reach the goals you have set for yourself, To be the you, you want to be. That is success."

By this time your eyes are scanning the office and they come to rest on the largest poster in the room which leads you to believe there is more about this man to be learned. You read the man's philosophy about so many things, which goes as follows, "I do my thing and you do your thing, I am not in this world to live up to your expectations. And you are not in this world to live up to mine. You are you and I am I. And if by chance we find each other it's beautiful."

Therefore, before any words have been spoken, the unsuspecting student has been collected. He or she belongs to Ken and they will not want any other counselor. And for him or her the best is yet to come, they will actually get to meet, to know and in all likelihood to love Ken Blackwell. This happened to Kim Benfield, a beautiful young Weston student who wrote her feelings in a poem which I would like to share with you, in part, today.

"The days when we were down
You were the one who took away the frown,
You were a friend most of us never had
You filled up the empty spaces that were hurting our hearts
We never seemed to repay you
For all the love and kindness that you spread among the walls and our hearts
My friend I say goodbye, may you rest in peace we loved you.

Thus, the word "collector" is appropriate. I know it is for me, for I too was collected.

Thank you

I think too many people think from the head instead of the heart . . . stop for a minute! Look around you and do things just for the heck of it. Don't think about what others will think. Be a little irresponsible, a little romantic . . . when you're young . . . Won Kim

To: The Student Council. I have loved working with you, and our special year (W). Mr. Sophisticate, what do you do with your hair? (K). Always smile forget P.B. & and D.P., Yuck. (M). Good luck Mr. P.C. get rid of the hat. (T). Remember our Prom!! (P). D&D all the way. Let's keep in touch, love (D). - Donna Morton

Being a part of this year's student council was like being a part of . . . Don't run for the council unless you see the room we work in first, you'll change your mind. "Be a lover, not a fighter." Love Always, Antonia (Tom)

Ah! The tolls one faces when one is confronted with the problems of Life. I encountered the 4th dimensional phase of the 4:30 meeting. (What?) The time spent between the 4 corners of (no, not the world) Seminar 31 has been, to say the least a complete and utter! Say good bye Mike

Yesterday's Pine River

This is the fourth year our school has been involved in the Multi-Cultural Leadership Program up at Pine River. Five students, along with Mr. Godsoe, were involved in the one week program this year.

Before going we were briefly introduced to one another and were given a rather general idea of what to expect. I don't think any of us had any idea of what was in store for us.

We arrived along with forty other students at 200 acres of beautiful forest and rolling hills. As we gathered in the lounge, little conversation went on between the students of different schools. We were put into family groups which we were in for most of the week's activities.

There seemed to be a mutual understanding between us all that something beautiful was happening. The respect and trust and friendships that lived at Pine River created an atmosphere of love that surrounded us all. Our experiences and friendships still live today.

I hope what we received can be given through us for a long time to come.

Miss Kathy McCabe and five grade nine students will enjoy a week at Pine River this spring.

SPORTS REVIEW . . .

Rugby

The 1982 Rugby season proved to be an interesting one. We began with many first year players coupled with some of last years juniors. The team was made up of a great group of guys who practiced diligently and were supportive of each other on and off the field. Although we got off to a slow start, through continued practice we began to see an improvement. This constant team effort resulted in the York and Toronto District Championships

Coach Williams

came away with a second place finish, behind the winners by only 28 points

We completed the season by sending seven of our boys to the Ontario Championships where Richard Bria received a tenth place in the 87K weight class and Dave Tomlinson (Westons Best) a fourth place finish in the 61K weight class. Great Season Guys.

Coach Williams

Wrestling

The 1982-83 wrestling season was the most successful Weston has ever experienced. This year Weston boasted an excellent 18-0 record with our best ever York season. We won the Etobicoke warm up Tournament in early December and went on to win the York League Dual Meet trophy. At the York Championships we were able to beat all comers with 154 points.

Some unexpected injuries hampered our efforts in the Toronto District Finals. We 1982-1983 technically must be regarded as a disappointment. The Senior football team record was 1 won - 4 losses, but, as for individual growth and development the season was a success. All we can hope and work towards in a more productive season on the playing field next year.

Football

Many thanks and good luck to our graduating ball players and to our team manager Fay Chang and Patty Dicresce. As for our returning players and juniors moving up to seniors we the coaches, want you to keep in mind our moving goal for next season, "to be champions."

This was the to remember for the Weston Jr. Football Ironmen. After finishing the regular season with a 4-2 record the Jr. Ironmen were given a bye to the finals, and home field advantage, because they ended up in first place. They would either meet York Memorial or their arch rival East York, but the latter surged ahead as they had for so many years in the past to the Ironmens consternation.

It was inevitable that the Jr. Ironmen would meet East York in the finals. When the whistle blew to end regulation time both teams were scoreless.

During most of the two overtime periods East York and the Ironmen were so evenly matched neither could score. In the last minute of the second overtime period Weston made a tremendous effort and finally kicked the ball into the end zone for the win and the York Championship title for only the 3rd time in Jr. Football history.

Hopefully next year the Jr. Ironmen will continue their success which was built by this years championship team.

Swimming

Once again this year, BOTH our Boys and Girls Swim Teams won the York Championships! Strong performances by newcomers Kaiti Tesky, Barb Vallis, and John Walker, along with the power of our veterans, enabled us to win all the divisions as well. Special congratulations also go to Steve Robichaud, Donna Varsas, and Rob McLean for winning the individual high-point trophies in their respective divisions. The Boys Team win now increases our streak to 10 consecutive years! In addition, Barbe Langenberger and Forbes Brown were chosen as this year's outstanding swimmers. The scores below show why the entire team can feel proud of a job well done!
